Brief summary, explanation of Travel Advisory and risk indicators

Exercise increased caution in Tanzania due to crime, terrorism, and targeting of LGBTI persons.

Violent crime, such as assault, sexual assault, express kidnapping, mugging, and carjacking, is common. Local police may lack the resources to respond effectively to serious crime.

Terrorist groups continue plotting possible attacks in Tanzania. Terrorists may attack with little or no warning, targeting embassies, police stations, mosques, and other places frequented by Westerners.

Members of the LGBTI community have been arrested, targeted, harassed, and/or charged with unrelated offenses.

Read the Safety and Security section on the country information page.

If you decide to travel to Tanzania:
- Always carry a copy of your U.S. passport and visa (if applicable). Keep original documents in a secure location.
- Be aware of your surroundings.
- Do not leave your food or drink unattended.
- Stay alert in locations frequented by Westerners.
- Avoid public displays of affection, in particular for same-sex couples.
- Monitor local media for breaking events and be prepared to adjust your plans.
- Enroll in the Smart Traveler Enrollment Program (STEP) to receive Alerts and make it easier to locate you in an emergency.
- Follow the Department of State on Facebook and Twitter.
- Review the Crime and Safety Report for Tanzania.
- U.S. citizens who travel abroad should always have a contingency plan for emergency situations. Review the Traveler’s Checklist.

Travel Advisory – Level 2 with Level 4

Country Information
Jamaica
Jan 10, 2018

Travel Advisory
Level 2: Exercise increased caution

Jamaica, Level 2: Exercise increased caution

Exercise increased caution in Jamaica due to crime. Some areas have increased risk. Read the entire Travel Advisory.

Do not travel to:
- Some areas of Kingston due to crime.
- Some areas of Montego Bay due to crime.
- Spanish Town due to crime.

Violent crime, such as home invasions, armed robberies, and thefts, occur frequently, even at all-inclusive resorts. Local police lack the resources to respond effectively to serious criminal. Some travel agents have reported that personnel are prohibited from driving outside of Kingston at night.

Read the Safety and Security section on the country information page.

If you decide to travel to Jamaica:
- Avoid walking or driving at night.
- Avoid public buses.
- Avoid secluded places or situations, even in resorts.
- Do not physically resist any robbery attempt.
- Be aware of your surroundings and keep a low profile.
- Enroll in the Smart Traveler Enrollment Program (STEP) to receive alerts and make it easier to locate you in an emergency.
- Follow the Department of State on Facebook and Twitter.
- Review the Crime and Safety Report for Jamaica.
- U.S. citizens who travel abroad should always have a contingency plan for emergency situations. Review the Traveler’s Checklist.

Kingston

Violence and shootings occur regularly in some areas of Kingston. U.S. government personnel are prohibited from traveling to the following areas: downtown Kingston, which is defined as the areas between Mountain View Avenue and Hagley Park Road, and south of Half Way Tree and Old Hope Roads, and includes Trench Town, Tivoli Gardens, and Arnott Gardens, Standpipe, Grants Pen, and Cassava Piece.

Niger – Level 3: Reconsider travel

Reconsider travel to Niger due to crime and terrorism.

Violent crime, such as armed robbery, is common. Terrorist groups continue plotting kidnappings and possible attacks in Niger. Terrorists may attack with little or no warning, targeting foreign and local government facilities and areas frequented by Westerners. Terrorists operate in the areas bordering Mali, Libya, and throughout northern Niger. Avoid travel to Niger's border regions, particularly the Malian border area, Diffa region, and the Lake Chad region. Mali-based extremist groups have crossed the border and carried out multiple lethal attacks on Nigerien security forces.

The U.S. government has limited ability to provide emergency services to U.S. citizens in remote and rural areas as U.S. government employees must obtain special authorization to travel outside of the capital, Niamey, due to security concerns. Outside of Niamey, all U.S. Embassy personnel are required to travel only during daylight hours in a minimum two-vehicle convoy accompanied by armed Nigerien government security escorts.

Read the Safety and Security section on the country information page.

If you decide to travel to Niger:

- Visit our website for Travel to High Risk Areas.
- Stay at hotels with armed Nigerien security presence.
- Do not physically resist any robbery attempt.
- Use caution when walking or driving at night.
- Keep a low profile.
- Be aware of your surroundings.
- Monitor local media for breaking events and be prepared to adjust your plans.
- Stay alert in locations frequented by Westerners.
- Make contingency plans to leave the country.
- Have evacuation plans that do not rely on U.S. government assistance.
- Keep travel documents up to date and easily accessible.
- Enroll in the Smart Traveler Enrollment Program (STEP) to receive alerts and make it easier to locate you in an emergency.
- Follow the Department of State on Facebook and Twitter.
- U.S. citizens who travel abroad should always have a contingency plan for emergency situations. Review the Traveler’s Checklist.
Travel Advisory – Level 4

Syria
Syrian Arab Republic
Last Updated: September 12, 2017

Do not travel to Syria due to terrorism, civil unrest, and armed conflict.

No part of Syria is safe from violence. Kidnappings, the use of chemical warfare, shelling, and aerial bombardment have significantly raised the risk of death or serious injury. The destruction of infrastructure, housing, medical facilities, schools, and power and water utilities has also increased hardships inside the country.

The U.S. Embassy in Damascus suspended its operations in February 2012. The U.S. government does not have diplomatic or consular relations with Syria. The Czech Republic serves as the protecting power for U.S. citizens in Syria. The range of consular services that the Czech Republic provides to U.S. citizens is extremely limited, and the U.S. government is unable to provide emergency services to U.S. citizens in Syria. U.S. citizens in Syria who seek consular services should try to quickly and safely leave the country and contact a U.S. embassy or consulate in a neighboring country, if at all possible.

The U.S. government particularly warns private U.S. citizens against traveling to Syria to engage in armed conflict. U.S. citizens who undertake such activity face extreme personal risks, including kidnapping, injury, or death. The U.S. government does not support this activity, and our ability to provide consular assistance to individuals who are injured or kidnapped, or to the families of individuals who die in the conflict, is extremely limited.

Fighting on behalf of or providing other forms of support to designated terrorist organizations, including ISIS and al-Nusra Front, can constitute the provision of material support for terrorism, which is a crime under U.S. law that can result in penalties including prison time and large fines.

Due to risks to civil aviation operating within or in the vicinity of Syria, the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) has issued a Notice to Airmen (NOTAM) and/or a Special Federal Aviation Regulation (SFAR). For more information U.S. Citizens should consult the Federal Aviation Administration's Prohibitions, Restrictions and Notices.

Read the Safety and Security section on the country information page.

If you decide to travel to Syria:

- Visit our website on Travel to High Risk Areas.
- Draft a will and designate appropriate insurance beneficiaries and/or power of attorney.
- Discuss a plan with loved ones regarding care/custody of children, pets, property, belongings, non-liquid assets (collections, artwork, etc.), funeral wishes, etc.
- Share important documents, login information, and points of contact with loved ones so they can manage your affairs, if you are unable to return as planned to the United States. Leave DNA samples with your medical provider in case it is necessary for your family to access them. Find a suggested list of such documents here.
- Establish your own personal security plan in coordination with your employer or host organization, or consider consulting with a professional security organization.
- Develop a communication plan with family and/or your employer or host organization so that they can monitor your safety and location as you travel through high-risk areas. This plan should specify who you would contact first, and how they should share the information.
- Enroll in the Smart Traveler Enrollment Program (STEP) to receive alerts and make it easier to locate you in an emergency.
- Follow the Department of State on Facebook and Twitter.
- Review the Crime and Safety Report for Syria.
- U.S. citizens who travel abroad should always have a contingency plan for emergency situations. Review the Traveler’s Checklist.
Health Alert - U. S. Embassy Bridgetown (January 10, 2018)

Location: South Coast of Barbados between Hastings and St. Lawrence Gap

Event: There is an overflow of raw sewage due to mechanical failure on the island’s south coast that is affecting the water quality at certain beaches between the Hastings and St. Lawrence gap areas. Sewage has periodically bubbled up onto the streets, and there are reports that the overflow is reaching the beach areas.

Actions to Take:
- Avoid water activities in the affected areas (south coast between St. Lawrence gap and Hastings.).
- Beware of sewage on the streets. If you come into contact with sewage, wash your hands, shoes, and any clothing that may have come into contact with the effluence.
- If you become seriously ill, seek medical attention.

Adjusting MIT’s International Travel Risk Policy Country Warning Level Methodology to U.S. State Department Changes

Todd Holmes
Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT)

tholmes@mit.edu
Travel Advisory Impact on MIT

• MIT’s International Travel Risk Policy Country Warning Levels became obsolete on January 10, 2018.

• Requires adjusting policy to the new system in order to produce Country Warning Levels.

• Opportunity to study whether an international assistance provider based methodology would be feasible as opposed to defaulting to a DOS-based methodology.
MIT Travel Context

• Less “traditional” study abroad to centers for individuals and groups (typically the January break for annual programs or one-off groups to Western Europe).

• More individual or small group to businesses and research locations or cooperating universities for the Technical Internship Program (MISTI), Public Service, Service Learning, Global Teaching Initiatives.

• Travel Cycle & Estimated Student Numbers Abroad
  – January: 300-400 travelers
  – Spring Break: 300-400 travelers
  – Summer: 1100-1300 travelers
  – Spring / Fall Semesters: 200-300
MIT Travel – Some Locations

• Frequent Student Travel Abroad Locations
  – Western Europe
  – Israel, Jordan, Saudi Arabia
  – Russia, Kazakhstan
  – India
  – China, Japan, Korea, Singapore, Mongolia
  – Mexico, Brazil, Chile, El Salvador
  – South Africa, Kenya, Nigeria, Tanzania, Uganda

• High Risk Locations this past year (senior level approval)
  – Ethiopia, Mali, Burkina Faso
  – Iraq, Lebanon
  – Haiti
  – Pakistan
MIT’s “Legacy” System

- MIT provides three levels of ratings*
  - Moderate
  - High
  - Extreme
    *OFAC Sanctions are noted but not placed on the ratings scale.

- Review DOS Travel Warnings
  - Look for trigger conditions or terms; phrases to determine whether the country meets at least one condition and assign a rating to a country or sub-region

- MIT policy makes no distinction between undergraduate and graduate students.

- Students sign an International Travel Risk Acknowledgment Form for all countries as of April 2017. Previously policy only required for TW countries – although departments may have used an internal form for other locations.

* Condition applied to elevate
Remarks to using Provider-based ratings

◆ Provider ratings geared towards broader community of international travelers

◆ Ratings and risk updates available via provider app
  ✓ MIT encourages travelers to download assistance provider app in pre-departure sessions.
  ✓ We recommend downloading STEP also.
  ✓ Easy monitoring of changes / updates for Travel Risk Safety Manager.

◆ Provider available 24/7 for all travelers to contact for advice, information, assistance.

◆ Possibility to integrate with Travel Registry System

◆ Bandwidth to review changes in a timely fashion and publicize on the Country Warning Level page (MIT = 1 person – monitoring effort, timely)

◆ Remains to be seen if the Academic Council would adopt this change.

Shared with students, along with specific advice regarding behavior and personal safety;

Typically did not impact program management; sometimes made adjustments (excursions) and requirements for student reporting.
What We Did....

Travel Warning:
Impacted program management and short-and-long term decision making.
Response: Travel Warning

- Followed up with conversations with colleagues in OSAC;
- Conversations and reports with on-site staff;
- Conversations with other institutions;
- If continuing program, student signs agreement they have read travel warning and understand additional security measures and possible responses.
Questions (Travel Warning)

Can we reasonably assure student safety if they behave reasonably?

What are the trigger points?

Infrastructure for support? Can we evacuate if situation gets worse?
