

Next Steps: Consider the current practices at your home institution or organization. What are some ideas or strategies you could take away from today's session? Try to identify at least one new practice that you could implement in the upcoming year.

Remember the framework: 1) Identify 2) Evaluate 3) Strategize 4) Implement

1. Resources: What funding resources are currently available on your campus or community? How could you allocate or identify additional avenues to support students with disabilities?
2. Policies: Do you currently have any prohibitive policies in place? How might you be able to modify any existing policies to make them more accessible?
3. Communication: How could you make your communications more inclusive? How could you enhance your marketing and outreach to students with disabilities?
4. Processes: How do you address overseas accommodations during student advising? How can you better train yourself and your staff to work with students with disabilities?
5. Programs: What is your current practice for reviewing program details to ensure accessibility? Think of one upcoming program. What are some reasonable steps you can take to make this a more inclusive program?

Reach out to us with any questions or to discuss further:

Dr. Thandi Dinani, Belmont University- thandi.dinani@belmont.edu

Sarah Langston, SAI- sarah@saiprograms.com

Jenny Sullivan, Rochester Institute of Technology- jlrslrap@rit.edu

Dr. Edna Wilson, SAI- e.wilson@saiprograms.com